Parkland's Read Every Day (RED) in March Challenge

At Parkland we really value reading, and the children are given plenty of opportunities to practise their reading skills. However, we do recognise that in order to make the most progress, children also need to read at home!

Further to the extremely successful Read Every Day (RED) November challenge, we are about to launch our Read Every Day (RED) March challenge. This reading challenge is to try and promote a love of reading and encourage children to read more at home. On Friday 28th February your child will receive a reading booklet (RED March). We would like them to read a book, magazine, comic, etc to an adult every day during March. All you need to do is encourage and enjoy listening to your child read and then sign their booklet to say they have read.

We really hope you take this opportunity to encourage your child to read every day. We look forward to seeing how many children can complete this exciting challenge!

Happy reading!

A study by the Institute of Education found that children who read for pleasure are likely to do significantly better at school than their peers – it showed they made more progress in maths, vocabulary and spelling.
